THE BAPTIST CHURCH A MODEL

L Letter Received by Rev. Morgan Wells Yesterday—Special Services and High Mass at St. Stanishus this Moraing-Down the Aisles.

There is little of extraordinary interest in church circles to-day, perhaps the principal event being the visit of Rt. Rev. Brennan, bishop of this diocese, to St. Stanislaus Catholic church to-day, and the administration of the rite of confirmationand the singing of La Hache's mass, "Misso Pre Pace," by a special choir. In the other churches, the usual services, always of interest, will be held.

Fort Worth Sets the Fashion.

The following letter to Rev. Morgan Wells of the Baptist church of this city, implys quite a compliment not only to the Baptist church but to Fort Worlh as well: NEW YORK CITY, June 23, 1891. Hev. Morgan Wells, Fort Worth, Tex.

DEAR SIE-When traveling through Texas I was very much pleased with the arrange-ments and plan of your church. My father-in-law, Rev. C. H. Duniap of New Castle. Pa, writes me here to send him plans of something of the kind of some of the new churches in this city. Now I am frank to say I know of no church in this city that I think will come as near filling their wants as does your church. Now would it be asking too much of you to send him something to gide him an idea of the plans, etc., of your church. If you have nothing your-self would you give him the architect's name and let 'him correspond with him. Ils congregation has decided to uild a new house of worship, nd I think yours a model. As I remember, the cost was something like $50,000, was it not? If you will kindly give him some information, I know he will appreciate it as well as myself. Your truly, F. L. CRAWFORD. Yours Rev. C. H. Dunlap, New Castle, Pa., Pastor First Presbyterian Church. It is needless to add that Mr. Wells will cheerfully accord the desired information, and there is little doubt it will please the New Castle people.

Is it Right, if Not Fordidden

There is a renewed effort which Bap-tists, as guardians of the faith once for all delivered to the saints, need to watch with special vigilance. And that is the effort to induce men to think a thing is right in worship if it is not forbidden. An exchange has a long article on deaconesses, in which the only argument is that the Bible does not forbid them. That argument would jus-tify the Catholic ritual with some few ex-ceptions.—[Western Recorder (Baptist).

It Makes Him Tired.

We are getting a little tired of the stock phrases such as "self-sacrificing, hard-working," etc., when reference is made to so evangelists who are in the employment of our missionary boards. By actual facts and figures we can show that these same evangelists are better paid, get more noney for their work than any other class of preachers of the same ability and efficiency. This makes up to the present time about fifty counties in which committees have been appointed, and President Hurley is in consequence very much enthused over the work and the promptness with which the county judges are responding to his request to appoint committees.

He says that the directors have decided that space in the Texas building will be allotted to only such counties in the state as organize or contribute towards the con struction of the building, without which no struction of the building, without which no exhibit whatever can be made. Therefore, the construction of a building on the exposition grounds at Chicago is a condition precedent to Texas being represented there, and this building, like all other state buildings, is to be dedicated in October, 1892. The consideration shown Texas in her allotment of space and assignment of position should, the directors think, be an incentive to the people of Texas in stimulating them to make an exhibit that will be worthy of the very prominent position that worthy of the very prominent position that Texas will occupy at Chicago during the exposition. Besides the county executive committees coards of lady managers have been apthe state, who, together with the ladies on the county committees, will meet at Dallas during the fair there, in October, to organ-ize a state association of lady managers.

AN UNPLEASANT AFFAIR.

Difficulty Between a Clergyman and s

An unpleasant affair occurred on Fifth and Rusk streets last evening, in which George Engiand and Rev. Joseph DeForrest came to blows, the former receiving a rather severe cut on the head from a demijohn held by the clergyman.

When Mr. England and wife came to Fort Worth.

Worth, the latter brought her church letter, which she deposited with St. Andrew's church. She was also given the position in the choir made vacant by the retirement of Miss Maud Peters. Some difficulty arose over the music and Mrs. Eagland withdrew from the choir.

England withdrew from the choir.

A few days ago she wrote to Rev. Mr. De Forest asking the return of her letter. Yesterday she received a letter from the rector in which he stated that as the letter was addressed to him and was the property of the church, it was not her property, and that he could not transfer her to a parish 300 miles distant, when he understood she was to make this city her permanent home and he had no right to remove her from the communicant list. The letter also stated that she had treated the rector and the church with disrespect in leaving the choir without notice either to the pastor or the congregation.

Mrs. England gave this letter to her husband, who considered it impertinent, and at once set out to seek Rev. Dc Forrest. He met him in front of the church and asked met him in front of the church and asked him if he had written that letter. Mr. De Forrest stated that he had. Thereupon Mr. England struck at him, the parson catching the blow upon his left arm. Bystanders say Mr. England struck the second time, and that as he was preparing for the third the rector struck him on the head with a small demijohn he held in his right hand, with which he was on his way to obtain a supply of communion wine. The force of the blow shattered the vessel and inflicted a gash about an finch long over Mr. England's right eye, and also bruised his cheek consider. eye, and also bruised his cheek considerably. Mr. DeForrest said to the bystanders: "Gentlemen, I call on you to witness I was forced to strike in self-defense." Mr. England retired to his home, and says the end is not yet. Mr. DeForrest re-grets the affair, but says he had no alterna-
